We open the doors

FOREWORD

Each year the doors of Dan River swing open to students seeking new and rich experiences. These doors open upon many phases of school life including education, participation, contribution, competition, and graduation. We are confident that opening the doors at Dan River will prepare us to open the doors of the future.

ADVERTISEMENTS

DEDICATION

Dear to our hearts are these two teachers who have understood our problems, inspired us with confidence, encouraged us when downhearted, assisted us with patience, and always with an admirable smile.

Their determined efforts and guidance have helped us down the pathways of school life leaving many precious memories. Words can never express our appreciation for their various contributions; but to show our love, honor, and respect, the Senior Class of 1962 dedicates the ARCHWAY to Mrs. Jean O. Myers and Mr. Glenn Shelton.

COUNSELING

The guidance program is primarily concerned with a careful, systematic, and continuous study of the individual student.

Every pupil at some time needs personal and individual help to solve a problem or improve his planning. MISS HODNETT and MR. BEASLEY help students study themselves and their new situations and assist them in the process of planning in terms of the new situation.

MRS. HURD of the Virginia Employment Service administers to seniors the GATB which measures verbal aptitude and mechanical skills.

Mrs. Hurd follows up the testing program through a conference with the individual informing each of his special abilities in the field of industry as indicated by his test scores.

April Showers

KING AND QUEEN

Mr. Buddy Mayhew
Miss Ann Cardwell

SHOWERS OF FUN

April showers bring May flowers, wet dresses and "droopy" hairdos. But the rain didn't dampen the spirits of the Juniors and Seniors at their annual festive affair given Friday, April 21, 1961. The king and queen for the evening, chosen by popular vote, were Miss Ann Cardwell and Mr. Buddy Mayhew. Favors included tiny umbrellas for the girls and black top hats for the boys. Truly, all had showers of fun!

The Harvest Festival

Mr. Buddy Mayhew and Miss Judy Woodson were crowned king and queen of the Fall Carnival by popular vote of the student body.

One of the principal attractions was the doll fair displayed by the elementary students.

Large crowds gather for fun and excitement at this annual affair.

Ernest Peek and Toni Slayton were crowned prince and princess and runner-up for princess was Beverly Shaw.

Runners-up for prince and princess are Randy Guill and Beverly Shaw.

Christmas At D. R.

Santa Claus has made his traditional visit to the grade students.

This year, as within the past years, white Christmas baskets, consisting of food and gifts for the needy families, served the purpose of Santa Claus. We do hope that through the coming years, that this great contribution will still be continued.

Naomi Franciscoreceived the honor of being crowned "Miss Merry Christmas" at the Annual SCA Christmas Party, held on December 20, 1961 in the school auditorium. She was crowned by popular vote over six other contestants.

It was a lot of work, but the cast enjoyed every minute of it. After the last performance all were a wee bit sad.

SENIORS

"I got em, I got em," was the joyous shout of Zane Owen when he stole a friend's trousers.

"Beauty Mud, to make me beautiful for the prom", explains Deanie Marshall.

The duties of our sponsors are innumerable. One of their largest is helping with the Senior Play. We could never repay Mr. Fuller and Mrs. Houser for the patience and help which they gave the cast.

Act

The junior play, BULL IN A CHINA SHOP by C. B. Gilford, was presented December 7th in the Dan River auditorium. The cast included; J.D. Clark, Evelyn Dellis, Carolyn Adams, Linda Campbell, Valerie Fitts, Donna Campbell, Marilyn Neal, Jimmy Haley, Gayle Atkinson, Joe Hair, Tommy Bryant and Ralph Shriver.

The play was given under the direction of the junior sponsors, Miss Shirley Day and Mrs. Cecile Roach and assistant director, Johnny Franklin.

DENNIS O'FINN: Hey, you can see in MY apartment from here!

"What's she got on her legs?" Miss Amantha wants to know. "Feels like nylon! Birdie, look at that hemline!"

JUNIORS

"Oh let's don't pretend, Dennis boy. You've been the motivation for another crime."

DENNIS: "Jane, you didn't have to excite the old lady like this. This one's an old sweetheart, she is."

Royal Dan

The primary function of the school paper is to serve as the eyes to the reader; to reflect the activities of the school. The ROYAL DAN serves as an instrument of education. It affords a training ground for students interested in newspaper work and encourages creative writing to those students who wish to do this kind of work. It educates the average student in the resources of his school and in its needs. The newspaper acquaints the students of Dan River with the activities of their school so that they will be better citizens of the community.

Mrs. Myers, sponsor, works with Faye Farthing, editor, and Patsy Farmer, Linda Campbell and Theresa Fore, managers, in the publication of the publication of the Royal Dan.

Covers the School Year at Dan River

The Archway is responsible for the pictorial coverage of Dan River. The book furnishes a long range view of our school purposes and a glimpse into the lives of our students, faculty, and administration. Herein is recorded for the future, the folly and indiscretion and the virtue and wisdom of youth.

Dan River's cafeteria staff is composed of seven hard-working women under the direction of Mrs. Willard Roberts, cafeteria manager. Each day they serve the students and faculty a nourishing and well-balanced meal.

Left to Right: Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Collie, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Joe Barker.

They Give Efficient Service to D. R.

The teachers work from sun to sun but our maids' work is never done.

Mrs. Minnie Gunn and Mrs. Martha Bruce.

Mr. Woodson, janitor of Dan River, works hard to keep the school in good condition. His friendly smile and good nature make him a friend of both students and faculty.

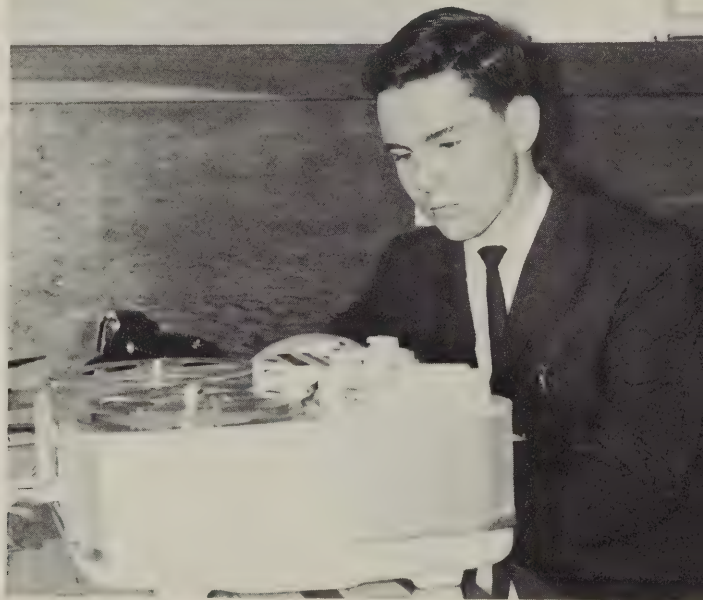

At Dan River

Each year the Virginia Employment service provides the CATB test for seniors. These tests are followed up by student conferences. At this time students are informed of special abilities as indicated by test scores.

Tommy Foster records his speech in preparation for the "Voice of Democracy Contest."

These students are setting up equipment for a research problem in the chemistry laboratory. This laboratory work helps prepare students for college.

A Variety

History is very important and interesting to many students because here we learn the fascinating story of man's development from his earliest appearance on earth to his life in the twentieth-century. Here the emphasis is on people and the roles they have played on the world's stage, and how these people have acted and interacted to create what is known to us as history. Learning that peace can be maintained only through a sympathetic understanding and appreciation of the various cultures of the world's peoples, we can go out and make our world a better one in which to live.

In government we learn how to make wise decisions and how to understand our government. Here we are taught to recognize our government's true purpose and to use it to carry out our plans in later life. By learning to understand this servant of ours, we can use it to its best advantages to make it obey our wishes.

The main purpose of the Safety Patrol is the maintenance of good school conduct at all times. Here Trooper Parker is shown explaining good safety measures for the members to use when there is a necessity for precautionary measures.

English, one of our most important subjects, is also one of our most interesting. Here we learn some of our most needed abilities; the ability to speak and write effectively. We apply ourselves in English, knowing that a person's ideas, no matter how good, are of little practical importance unless he can express them clearly. For these reasons English is a required subject.

Physical Education constitutes a basic part in the life of a high school student. Not only is it important for us to acquire mental ability, but we must also learn how to keep physically alert. This is the reason that Physical Education is also one of our required subjects.

Of Activities

Contributing to a greater part of our community life is the cannery. Our cannery is open to all county residents who find it convenient to use these facilities for their work. Mrs. Beatrice Wiles, the cannery supervisor, offers valuable assistance to anyone who is in need of it.

While studying "Julius Caesar," Mr. Wilson's tenth grade English class prepared several projects for display in the library. At the left is a scale model of "The Globe," an open air public play house used for Shakespeare's plays.

and Interests

Under the direction of Mrs. Jean Myers, the Journalism class learns and practices the fundamentals of newspaper writing.

Values of Cheerleading

1. It is a means of gaining prestige and respect of students.
2. It contributes to the over-all physical well being of the individual.

3. It develops qualities of leadership.
4. It affords an opportunity to develop creative abilities.
5. It develops sportsmanship.

CLASSES

Senior Class

The major event of the Senior Class was the trip taken in March. The money making projects varied from selling fruit cakes to working on a poultry farm. Much hard work went into the production of a three-act comedy, WE SHOOK THE FAMILY TREE. As usual the teachers defeated the seniors in the student-faculty basketball games. The seniors were entertained by the juniors with the presentation of a Junior-Senior Banquet. As graduation drew nearer, each began worrying about passing final exams. There was an air of excitement as fitting for caps and gowns, and preparation for graduation exercises began. With graduation each one became a part of the school's past. But the fun, learning, hard work, and fellowship shared at Dan River High School shall never be forgotten.

S. W. Squire, Pres. David Carter, Secy.-Treas.

Education is a companion which no misfortune can decrease, no crime destroy, no enemy alienate, no despotism enslave, at home a friend, abroad an introduction, in solitude a solace and in society an ornament. It chastens vice, guides virtue and gives grace and government to genius. Education may cost financial sacrifice and mental pain, but in both money and life values it will repay every cost one hundred fold.

College, perhaps? Wonderful! A job? Wonderful, too, if it's the right one—with opportunities to progress and learn as well as earn. There are many such jobs at C&P, waiting for girls like you. In a telephone job, you not only start with good pay but are specially trained to make more. Raises and advancements are frequent. Surroundings are pleasant—people are friendly—and your work is never dull. Why not make your first job a telephone job—one that can lead to a happy, rewarding career?
